Sir,

I, Hanumakka - widow of Anjini - late - Permanent coolie on the Agricultural Research Station, Itagari beg to bring the following to your kind Consideration and Redress.

The deceased husband - Anjini when at twelve, started his life on the Agricultural Research Station, Itagari as a Casual coolie on a daily wages of two annas. Later his advance in age and efficiency at work, he rose up to a coolie on a daily wages of six annas, at the end of about eight years. Subsequently he was made a permanent coolie on your farm about sixteen years ago. and was drawing his monthly wages at Rs 30/- at the time of his death.

He was regular in his duties and worked to the satisfaction of his superiors. He also attended the work on 10.5.'48, As he was not keeping normal health, he had taken medicine from a Quack on 11.5.'48, which suddenly proved fatal. He thus, leaves behind him - me - his
